Dog was Getting Warm.

Nightwatchman Adelsperger a few nights ago passed L. M. Simmons' residence about 2.00 A. M., found the front door wide open and the gas light burning in the hall. Mr. Adelsperger thought there were robbers in the house and he proceeded to investigate. Edgwood, Mr. Simmons' large dog, was warning himself by the kitchen stove and the dog's master was snugly covered up in bed sleeping soundly. Mr. Simmons thinks he did not latch the door securely and that the dog pushed it open.

Can't all be the Woman.

About a dozen women of this place have accused F. P. Adelsperger to his face of having mentioned their names as being the woman "dressed in black" who raised a little excitement among some of the people of this place several weeks ago. Mr. Adelsperger says he has not mentioned the name of the guilty woman to anybody yet, notwithstanding the reports to the contrary. Some of the women who claim their names have been mentioned, talked very indignantly to Nightwatchman Adelsperger, but it was a waste of words on him.

Who Can Beat This?

In this year of our Lord, eighteen hundred and ninety-five, the potato crop in this part of the country, at least, has been the largest in-gathering of "murphies" for years, and the potatoes are generally of a large size, but the largest crop for the amount of seed put in is reported from the Beechwoods settlement. Jos. McClelland planted five bushels of potatoes on Jos. Hutehinson's farm and this fall he got one hundred and sixty-one bushels of potatoes from the five bushels planted. Can any farmer in Jefferson county beat this yield of potatoes in proportion to the amount planted?

Quick Work.

The fire department at the tannery has been organized into two companies—Nos. 1 and 2—and every Saturday afternoon they are called out to drill. The men are always at their work in the different parts of the tannery, the hose carts, etc., locked up as if they were not going to be used for months unless in a case of necessity, and when the alarm is given to call them out to drill the companies are to see which one can be ready for duty first. Last Saturday Co. No. 2 got their hose out, attached to the plug and were throwing water on the building in 54 seconds after the alarm was given.

Mum Social.

A "mum social," for the benefit of the Presbyterian parsonage fund, was held at the residence of J. B. Arnold on Grant street last Thursday evening. Five cents admission fee was charged, five cents fine for speaking, five cents for coffee, five cents for cake. Any person paying 25 cents were given the privilege of talking all they wanted to and were also entitled to coffee and cake. The social was largely attended. Most all present decided they would save money by paying 25 cents for the privilege of talking. Mrs. S. B. Rumsey and Esq. E. Neff were the only ones that kept mum until 10.00 P. M.

Building Political Fences.

Esq. E. Neff and wife drove over into Indiana county last Friday to spend a few days with relatives and expected to return as far as Punxsutawney the first of this week and tarry a few days in that burg to give Mrs. Neff the privilege of visiting friends there and also give the 'Squire an opportunity to circulate among the people and get politically solid, as he is now, and will be, a candidate for the nomination for sheriff of Jefferson county on the Republican ticket next spring. 'Squire began running for the nomination for sheriff two years ago and, according to his own statement, has never let up. He has never let an opportunity pass in the two years to put in a peg to tie in the on coming campaign for the nomination.

Walked to Reynoldsville.

About four o'clock one afternoon last week five dust-covered weary ladies stopped at the Ross House and engaged two rooms and after shaking the dust off their feet and clothing and using a generous supply of water, they stretched their weary bodies on the beds and enjoyed an hour's snooz and were greatly refreshed thereby. They then repaired to the parlor and one of the ladies played the "two step" on the piano for the other ladies to try and see if their feet were as active as they had been in the forenoon of that day. The ladies referred to were Mrs. John W. Reed, wife of the Judge of this county, Mrs. Sallie Rodgers, Miss Ida VanVleet, Misses Carrie and Jennie Jenks, all of Brookville. It is likely these ladies have been reading of the "new woman" and concluded they would do something unusual and would climb all the hills between Brookville and Reynoldsville just for the novelty of it. The ladies remained at the hotel until the 8.48 train arrived in Reynoldsville and they got "all aboard" for the return trip which was made in considerable less time than it took to walk to Reynoldsville. The ladies will walk to Clarion some day soon, if they have not already made the trip. This is certainly a new way of going on an excursion.

Two $25,000 Damage Suits.

The borough of Reynoldsville has two $25,000 suits for damage on its hands, in the cases of A. M. Cameron, who fell off the sidewalk in the east end of town January 2nd, 1895, and broke his left shoulder bone, and Mrs. Ann Sanders, who stepped off the sidewalk near Solomon Shaffer's on the 19th of June, 1895, and was injured.

The records show part of Cameron's declaration against the borough of Reynoldsville, which was filed in the Prothonotary's office Oct. 9th, 1895, to be as follows: "Said walk not being protected by proper guard rail or other means, and not having said walk free from accumulations of snow and ice, Mr. Cameron slipped and fell off said side or foot walk and by said fall was bruised, cut, crushed and his left arm dislocated at the shoulder and broken, and thereby disabled, whereby the said A. M. Cameron, by reason of the negligence of the said defendant, suffered great pain and anguish of body and mind, and is likely to experience such pain and anguish through life, has been permanently injured in health and body, and maimed for life, and will be subject to great inconvenience and expense for doctor bills, is disabled to work, has suffered both a temporary and a permanent loss of earning power and has and will through life sustain great pecuniary loss, and has been injured and sustained damage to the amount of $25,000, which amount the plaintiff believes is justly due him from the defendant, and therefore, he brings this suit."

Mrs. Ann Sanders' declaration, which was filed Sept. 9th, 1895, after a lengthy description of the sidewalk and its dangerous condition, is as follows: "That on the 19th day of June, 1895, the time aforesaid in the evening after dark, the said Ann Sanders, the plaintiff, while traveling along said street on said side or foot walk, at the place aforesaid, not knowing the dangerous character of the same, and not being able to see because of the defendant's negligence in not lighting the street at the place and not having said side or foot walk properly protected, aforesaid fell off the said side or foot walk into said hole in front of lot No. 11, at the off set in said foot walk and by said fall was bruised, cut, crushed and her leg disabled, whereby the said Ann Sanders, by reason of the negligence of the said defendant, suffered great pain and anguish of body and mind, is likely to experience such pain and anguish through life, has been permanently injured in health and body, maimed for life, and will be subject to great inconvenience, is disabled to work and perform her household duties, is liable to thereby lose the love and affection of her husband, has suffered both a temporary and permanent loss of earning power, and has and will through life sustain great pecuniary loss and has been injured and sustained damage to the amount of $25,000, which amount the plaintiff believes is justly due her from the defendant, and therefore, she brings this suit."

Attacked Two Ladies.

Al. Green, the young fellow who attacked and insulted two young ladies on the Fuller hill early last summer and was allowed to escape without punishment, attacked, insulted and roughly handled two married ladies from Hopkins mill who were on their way home about five o'clock last evening. Green was standing near the bridge at the west end of the big cut below town, and he caught one lady by the throat, knocked her down and threw her cape over her head. The other woman screamed so loud that he got after her and choked her and hit her in the face. A truck walker came to their assistance. Had only one woman fallen into the villain's hands it is likely he would have accomplished the fiendish act attempted. Both women went home with bruised faces and black eyes. By the way their faces were cut Green must have had something in his fist when he struck the women. A warrant was issued and given to Adelsperger and he found Green under a coal car near the company store. He waived a hearing, was kept in the lock-up all night and was taken to Brookville jail this morning. Such chaps are not safe to run at large.

THE SUSPENSION ENDED.

Miners Resume After Almost Seven Weeks Idleness.

After a suspension of seven weeks the mines at this place were started up yesterday morning at the same rate for mining as was paid at Big Soldier, Sprague and Henry mines before the strike, 35 cents per ton. The men working in the Hamilton mine at the time of the suspension were only got 30 cents per ton and the other men thought it was the "hand writing on the wall" which indicated that it would only be a matter of a short time until all would be reduced to the price the company was paying in Hamilton, which the company was pleased to term charity work. The men in the employ of the B. L. & Y. C. M. Co. were the first in this region to quit work and the last to resume work.

A mass meeting was held in the K. of P. hall at 9.00 A. M. on Monday of this week at which meeting a committee was appointed to wait on the company officials and inform them that the miners would resume work at 35 cents per ton if there was no discrimination made and that all the men could resume work. Following is the answer given to the committee, which was signed by S. B. Elliott, manager of the B. L. & Y. C. M. Co.:

"The right of man to work or not work for whom he pleases should not be questioned, and the right for one party to employ or not employ one whom he pleases stands on precisely the same grounds of justice and liberty. As this company does not demand that anyone should work for it who does not want to do so, it claims the equal privilege of having none work for it whom it does not want, and this right cannot be surrendered. The exercise of this right, however, will always be controlled by due regard for every just and equitable consideration."

A meeting was held Monday afternoon to hear the report of the committee appointed in the forenoon to wait on Gen. Manager Elliott. The report was accepted and as above stated, the men resumed work yesterday.

According to "an allegory" published in the DuBois Courier yesterday morning, signed by W. B. Wilson, some one who pretended friendship for the miners has betrayed them for a few paltry pieces of silver. Mr. Wilson calls the fellow a mongrel and says he "possess the combined evils of a Cain, an Esau, a Judas and the cur dog that licked the sores of Lazarus and fed upon the crumbs that fell from the rich man's table." A man who would pretend friendship for a laboring man, or any other man, and sell him out for a little gain, is deserving of the vilest epithets that can be heaped upon him. And especially in a case when the bread and butter of the miner and his wife and children are depending on the outcome of the struggle.

Another Bride.

Within a few weeks Reynoldsville has given three of its daughters to become wives of ministers of the Gospel. The third was Miss Martha Waite, daughter of Robt. Waite and sister of John Waite, our county treasurer. She was married at her home in the presence of a number of friends and relatives last Thursday at 6.00 o'clock P. M., to Rev. Samuel T. Himes, pastor of the Kountze Memorial Lutheran church of Osnaburg, Ohio. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. R. Johnson, pastor of the Presbyterian church of this place, assisted by Rev. Crissman, of Brookville.

The bride and groom are both graduates of Grove City College, and both have distinguished themselves in Christian work, Mrs. Himes having been very actively connected with the Presbyterian church of this place. Rev. Himes has just recently completed his studies, and entered upon his first pastorate. His future looks bright. Mrs. Himes belongs to a good family, but possesses personal merits of a high order, that of themselves have won her many friends.

The couple left for Brookville that evening where visits were to be made. They left Monday morning for their home in Osnaburg, O.

At It Again.

One year ago Miss Roberta Ayers of this place began soliciting subscriptions for the Ladies' Home Journal with a view of being awarded a scholarship in the Conservatory of Music at Boston, Mass. It will be necessary to secure 1,000 subscribers to get the scholarship. She did well at first, but on account of the dull times did not canvass much outside of this immediate vicinity. The young lady did not get discouraged, but has taken up the work again with a greater determination than ever to win the prize. The Ladies' Home Journal is one of the best magazines published for the money, $1.00 a year, and should be in every household. Those who subscribe will not only get the worth of their money in good reading matter, but will help a worthy young lady to a musical education. Miss Ayers is now a singer of local reputation and she is very desirous of improving her talent. People of neighboring towns, whom Miss Ayers has not called upon, who want to help her along can do so by sending their subscriptions to her in Reynoldsville, Pa.

Postmaster Jenks says that parties wishing their letters to go through in a hurry should always write "In haste" on the lower left hand corner of the envelope. When these magic words appear on the envelope everybody connected with the postal service jumps around lively. The stage driver whips his horses into a brisk trot, the postmaster dances a jig, and the route agent rushes forward and tells the engineer to pull the throttle wide open and let 'er go.—Punxsutawney Spirit.
